There is a ten-stamp mill on the roperty, but this will be increased im-idiately to twenty stamps, and the

As soon as the new owners obtained control, orders were immediately issued for a number of new improvements. There is a splendid water power on the property, and an abundance of water, they owning a water right of 4,000 milners' inches. Two new water whosels were ordered, and extensive repairs and additions to the mill have been inaugurated. Eighteen men are at present employed in the mine, but it is the intention to increase the force in a very short while.

It is the intention to increase the force in a very short while.

The purchasers will open up the mine on a more extensive scale, and work it is it has never been worked before. They have a tunnel in 250 feet on the drift, and will continue to push it in to the full length of the ore body. The latter is six feet in width, and assays run all the way from $1 to $12 per ton, and increases in value as they get deeper. There is blocked out at present and in sight 20,000 tons of ore, all of which is the ensient kind of free milling rock, and can readily be handled at a cost of $1 per ton.

Cost Was $100,000.

Cost Was $100,000.

The property cost about $100,000, of which $30,000 has already been paid, and the balance is due in two equal payments, occurring Oct. I and Nov. I. Mr. Corem is associated with Mr. Holmes in the purchase, and Mr. Posey examined and experted the property for the contiemen.

examined and experted the property for the gentlemen.

Messes Holmes and Posey also visited the mining district in Shasta county, near Redding, and found it a very promising district. Captain De Lamar and Mr. Talhert have each obtained some very valuable copper properties in that district. For years the Californians have worked their properties for nothing but gold, and have overlooked the copper that the rock carried.

Mr. Posey states that the character and conditions in Shasta county are very similar to that in the Bingham district.

Outcommines of Corper Ore.

Outcroppings of Copper Ore.

Everywhere on the surface the outcroppings show a highly oxydized rock, that the natives call "gossim," and which they have always considered worthless. This ore, when followed down to sufficient depth, is rich in sulphides of copper and iron. Sometimes it is both, sometimes only iron, and occasionally the copper is of too small a percentage 10 be profitable.

Generally, however, the ore will run from $5$ to $70 in gold, and from 12 to 50 per cent copper to the ton. Two months ago the property owned by De Lamar, and the property owned by Mr. Talbert might have been bought in for almost any price, but since the Utah expects have been on the ground, the Californians have learned that the despised "gossim" is of some value, and properties are now held at higher figures.

The Big Four mine, over which a suit in the courts has been pending, has been transferred to C. R. Hanesek, representing a Saft Lake company, by the original owners, S. D. Colton & Co. Just what arrangements have been made with the Colorado company that was contending for the property is not definitely known, but evidently some satisfactory deal has been made, as it is stated that work upon the property will begin at an early date. The terms made with the Colton company are reliably stated as $3,000 and a four months' option. A new find has been reported on this property, the particulars of which are being kept secret at present.

lars of which are being kept secret at present.

The indications continue very favorable in Jesse Knight's Cleveland, and the prediction is freely made around Carbonate that a mine will be develuped there before the snow files.

The remaining pieces of havy machinery for the Dyer smelter will be on the ground tomorrow, and will be put in place at once.

Eichard Veltman has departed for Sait Lake in response to a telegram from Lorenzo Hatch, stating that a deal is on for the sale of mining interests in the La Sal country, in which the genticmen are associated. The amount of money involved in the deal is stated as $47,000. Mr. Veltman holds a one-third interest in the property.

Colonel H. G. Heffron gave out the information last evening that the vein in the Shoebridge-Bonanza, Tintic, had in the Shoebridge-Bonanza, Tintic, had just been encountered in a twenty-two-foot cross-cut from the new shaft at the 450-foot level. Samples from the vein reached him yesterday, but as he had not opened them when seen, had not opened them when seen, he was unable to give any idea of the character or value of the ore.

Copper—Property Has Been Worked Since 1849, But to Poor Advantage—De Lamar Interested In Golden State Mines.

Sus Holmes of the Knutsford and O. P. Posey returned to the city yesterday morning, after an absence of several weeks, and were exceedingly jubilant over the success of their efforts in the auriferous commonwealth by the Golden Gate. They incidentally investigated a few mining propositions and landed one that they expect will turn out to be one of the best mines in the country.

The property consists of a group of claims located on the edge of the Mokelumine river, and distant a mile and a half from the famous Mokelume Hill. The property is developed, and has been more or less constantly worked in a very unscientific for mining mills. The mine, for years, has been worked in a very unscientific manner, and most of the ore has been run through an arastra.

Successful Experiments With the Invention of a Denver Man.

(Special Correspondence.)

Moab, Aug. 25.—The first ingot of copper reached Moab today from the mines of Thoman Daiy at Lisbon, fifty-five miles southeast of this place. It was brought in by Mr. Daly, and is the result of a few days' experimenting with a leaching process, the invention of Mr. Gardiner of Denver, Colo. The furnace for melting the precipitates had proved inadequate for melting any large quantity, being but a prospector's blacksmith's forge, but a bar of about ten pounds was obtained. In a few days' time, and with ordinary barrels for tanks, a hand hammer for crushing the ore, and a small expense for chemicals, about 150 pounds of copper precipitates had been obtained, which only requires a furnace to meltinio the bar copper of commerce.

The result of the experiment means much for this section of Utah, where there are large bodies of copper ores which have been held back from development because of the want of an economical method of reduction, Carrying large quantities of silica, smelting would prove an expensive method, and the long distance from railroads has delayed development in that line. The success of the experiments is beyond question.

Today or Tomorrow.

Now that Colonel Possey is back from his California trip a site for the Bingham Copper & Gold Mining company's smelter—a number of which have been accured for his inspection by Colonel H. G. Heffron during his absence—will probably be made either today or tomorrow. Accumulated correspondence may prevent Colonel Possey's geiting out today, but that no time will be lost in selecting a location and having it ratified by the directorate of the company at Boston is assured. It was given out last night that the big plant would be erected this fall, and that work would begin at the earliest peasible moment. Not less than $300,000 has been set aside to construct the plant, and as the mine now has sufficient ore blocked out to keep it in operation for an indefinite period no doubt whatever exists that all haste will be made to put the plant in commission.

Big Four Troubles Settled and the Mine Is Again In Operation.

(Special Correspondence.)

Vernal, Aug. 25.—The Denver representative of the Bromide Mining company notified the local office yesterday that negotiations for the sale of the are are no diers about the local office yesterday that negotiations for the sale of the correspondence. that negotiations for the sale of the Bromide mine and smelter had been again renewed. It was stated that a sale is now pending that will in all probability be consummated. Who the parties are that are after the property was not learned.

H. S. Cellett will leave here Sunday morning to meet the prospective purchasers at Rock Springs and pilot them over the road to the mine.

Ed Colton came in from the mine yesterday and reports a strike of cich ore in the upraise from the lower level, which consists of a three or four-inch streak that carries an unusual pet cent of couper. The mine generally is reported as looking better as the work of drifting toward the contact progress.

The Rie Form mine of the progression of the double purpose, the mine contact progression. are very favorable. As Captain Bard says: "There are no idlers about the mine—and considering that there are but seven of us working, we are making a pretty fair showing." Of course, there is no doubt about the vein exposed being the Swansea, and from present appearances it is plausible to believe that the matter will show mineralization very seen.

Annie Laurie and Ssvier.

Yesterday afternoon a party came in from Unicago for the double purpose, it is understood, of taking a final whiri through the Annie Laurie and other properties involved in the deal which Frank J. Cannon and associates have been manipulating for some time past, and also for the purpose of considering the offer of a control of Charles Lammersdorf's Sevier mine, made to Chicago people at about the same time John Dern and E. H. Alris obtained the refusal at a stated price. The party consisted of L. C. Luck, a Chicago capitalist; Judge C. H. Aldrich and F. C. Rutan, the expert, and L. P. Kimberley, the big iron mine operator of Shereon, Fa.

Just how the party is divided between the two propositions could not be learned, but on their return from the diggings next Thursday more light can be shed on the situation. Willard F. Snyder accompanies the party.

Trandson, well, I can do nothing with him?

Thus spoke old Queen Louise, to whom Bismarck once gave the appellation, "Europe's female Bismarck. It was her fondest hope to see Prince Christian property wedded, or matched, as they say in court circles. His marriage, a little more than a year ago, to the Grand Duchess Alexandrina of Schwerin, filled the old queen with joy during her past days, for Alexandrina is one of the wealthlest princesses of Europe and possesses an enviable family tree. Her lineage sinris with Count Adolph of Schleswig (in the seventeenth century) and she is the great-great-granddaughler of Tar Peter the HI of Russia.

"What do you think?" said the prince, turning to me. "Oughth't I to race the whole mob together."

"Well, if you will arrange for a three-mile race, and give them loy yards handicap, your highness would have good charces for winning the race."

This was jobliantly agreed to by the mob, and out to the track they went our their wheels. The others started in a busch and ran into each other, wobbling along the track like poultry with their heads cut off. Soon there was a spill, and everybody went down except Prince Waldemar, and now the race was on between him and Christian, who however, overtook him before the second mile. The next day there were several lame princes about the city, but they were not so badly "spilled" but what they all paid a visit to our store and bought American wheels.

This incident led to the subsequent large domand for American bicycles among aristocratic circles in Europe.

Alexandrina's Home.

Alexandrina's Home.

The old castle of Schwerin, where Christian courted the fair Alexandrina, is one of the most gorgeous of modern European palaces. It was founded in the eleventh century, figuring in the mediacyal wars as a fortified castle of great importance. The buildings were added to in the six-teenth century, and recently the ontire structure was rebuilt. Situated in a palace garden reaplendent with choicely carved marble fountains, bajustrades, statues and a profuse dieplay of the most beautiful flowers and psants, the view from the castle windows is charming in the extreme. The park is surrounded by canalis, spanned by a number of white marble bridges, and there are little artificial inkes bordered by garlands of fragrant flowers. Large flocks of swans and ducks glide about on the waters, which are here and there spangled with Illies, and there is a delictions twitter of birds from the tose hedges.

STORIES OF CECIL RHODES

Rhodes makes enemies. A young Englishman named Pierce until recently held a good position with the British South African Chartered company and was being rapidly advanced by Rhodes, who held him in high favor. spirits exuberant, Pierce rushed to the ex-premier to be congratulated. Rhodes received him coidly, refused to employ him or even to advance him enough money to get out of town. Whether or not the arbiter of South Africa has had an unpleasant love romance to one seems to know, but he certainly does not care for women and dislikes to employ married men.

Persons either like Rhodes immensely or detest him. At Kimberly he is most popular. He became so by refunding to several hundred miners the money which Harney Barnato persuaded them to invest in the Flasides mine on the Rand. The Kimberly men sunk every sixpence they had saved in this investment, and when it proved a fallure they were so wild with rage that Barnato would have had a hard time but for Rhodes, who paid the men $100,000 of his own money, completely reimbursing them and winning their exteem forever.
